

World Regions Definition

This document outlines the various world regions and sub-regions covered in Intratec Products, detailing the respective countries encompassed within each region. It is important to highlight that Intratec analysis and assessments are focused on world regions, sub-regions, or the individual countries in bold as presented in the table below. Other countries (no highlighted in bold) are approached only on an aggregate manner, either as region or sub-region.

Our objective with this document is to ensure our customers have a clear understanding of analysis and assessments of all Intratec products.
